DOWNTOWN TACOMA COMES ALIVE

Tac Facts April 6 77

Congressman Norm Dicks writes a check for the first two tickets, the Roxy theatre's "The Show-Off."

The Pantages opened in 1917 as a Vaudeville Theatre and was a popular spot for Tacomans until the 1930's when it was converted to a motion picture theatre. During its "heyday", the Pantages housed such greats as Babe Ruth, Jack Dempsey, Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy, Cliff Arquette, the Great Davey and Bela Lugosi starring in the last full stage show, "Count Dracula" performed in 1931.

The Arts Commission takes this opportunity to show off the Pantages Theatre with a live professional production. The near perfect acoustics and elegant design make it an ideal facility for plays, concerts, opera and dance.

There are also advantages in the jcb market--construction, artists, administrators. The theatre would bring business into the downton area with easy access and parking. It would also expose the community, as well as tourists, to a high quality performing arts. And, sentimentally, keep and cherish a building of both esthetic beauty and of historical signifigance.

The project has received the endorsement of the Chamber of Commerce, Downtown Association of Businessmen, Civic Arts Commission, numerous legislators, county commissioners, council members and Congressman Norm Dicks.

In keeping with the hopes that a live event in the theatre would serve as a catalyst to get the restoration project moving again, the Seattle Repertory Theatre brings a comedy suitable for the whole family, "The Show-Off" to the Pantages stage.

"The Show-Off" introduces Aubrey Piper, the most inexhaustible windbag you'll ever hope to meet. He is also gentle, loving and a liar with an overwhelming truth of his own. George Kelly's "transcript from life" creates the authenticity of Aubrey Piper, for no human personality has ever been made more vivid or more truthful and complete in the American Theatre.

"The Show-Off" is sponsored in part by the Western States Arts Foundation, the Tacoma-Pierce County Civic Arts Commission and the Arts Advisory Foundation of Pierce County.

Voting-Privilege and Duty

By A. Hart

It is both the duty and the privilege of an American citizen to interest himself in politics and thereby exercise his right to help place, through his ballot, worthy men and women in public office. The political party to which a man belongs is of much less importance than the question of his exercising his privilege of voting. If politics become smeared with dishonest practice there is no one to blame but the people who have it within their power to keep dishonest, unworthy and inefficient people out of office.

Volunteers Needed at Purdy

Special orientation meetings for prospective volunteers will be held at Purdy Treatment Center on Wednesday, April 6, 1977 at 1:00 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. Those wishing to assist in the Center's resocialization programs are invited to attend either session.

Opportunities for volunteer participation include serving as Sponsors, Sponsor-Escorts for job interviews, etc., or as Aides in the Library, School, Chapel Choir, Business Office, or Recreation activities.

Purdy Treatment Center is the State Correctional Institution for Women and is nationally known for its many innovative programs. It is located five miles north od the Tacoma Narrows Bridge on State Highway 16.

Those wishing to attend are requested to contact Mrs. Eleanor Green, Community Resource Coordinator, at the Center.

Editorial

It seems that somewhere in this system we could find ways to decrease the problem of schizophrenia. This disease is not new. It has been with us for many years. In a previous article it was stated that this "disease hospitalizes more people than cancer." The cost to tax payers is over 300 million dollars. Yet, progress in this area seems to be at a snail's pace. We need to examine ways to speed this process up. Dr. Hawkins notes that "there is a vast difference in time and expense involved with megavitamin therapy. At most mental health clinics, there are extensive interviews with psychiatric personnel, a process which may involve months and which produces only a diagnosis, no treatment." Using the megavitamin therapy, doctors at a New York hospital may see patients only 15 times the first year, four to six times the second year. Tests to determine the patient's condition are quickly done, since they are largely biochemical tests. A study published by the American Schizophrenia Association in 1971 showed that treatment of patients by the "new" orthomoiecular methods slashed the cost to the patients by 90 percent.

Dr. Hawkins showed that his clinic could reduce the cost to the patient and also reduce the average number of patient visits to the office from 150 per year to 15. It appears that rapid screening tests, large doses of selected vitamins, plus high protein, low carbohydrate diets and a certain amount of psychotherapy may help speed the process and reduce the cost as well as cut return visits to a minimum. Eliminate the cause or control the effects!

LOUD NOISES CAN BE DANGEROUS TO YOUR HEALTH

By A. Hart

Research has revealed that loud noises activate inner biological devices. When a door slams, you jump, because the startling sound alerts you to danger. If continusouly repeated, similar stress can help trigger heart attacks. Research has shown the moderate noise raises blood pressure, pulse rate and cholesterol level, causes blood vessels to contract, adrenalin to flow and pupils to dilate. Symptoms resemble combat fatigue and include headache, nervous tension and fear.

Women exposed to hi-intensity sounds in industry or to sonic booms (which may destroy brain cells) have given birth to stillborn or malformed children in a much higher ratio than the average. "Even moderate sounds disturb the fetus in the womb, accelerating its heartbeat."

Under federal law, an occupational noise-level exposure of 115 decibles (the measurement used to determine sound intensity) is permitted for only 15 minutes per day." Jet take-off at 200 feet produces about 200 decibles.

PLU Given Collection of African Art

for Facts apr 6 77

A collection of African tribal art, worth some $14,000 has been donated to Pacific Lutheran University by Dr. and Mrs. Hans Lehmann of Seattle.

The collection of 10 pieces, garnered by the Lehmanns on several visits into African bush country during the past 12 years, were part of the Lehmanns' personal Nimba Gallery collection in Seattle.

The exhibit will be on display at the Mortvedt Library Gallery April 21. Hours are 8 a.m. to 11 p.m. Monday through Saturday, 1-11 p.m. Sunday.

The Lehmanns first became associated with PLU in 1967 when the Joffrey Ballet of New York City selected PLU for its summer residency. At that time Dr. Lehmann was president of the Pacific Northwest Ballet Association, which helped sponsor the residency. Impressed by the quality of PLU, when the Lehmanns decided to make a gift of the collection, it seemed natural to give it to PLU.

Dr. and Mrs. Lehmann have been active in Northwest arts since the early '50's. Mrs. Lehmann, a professional painter, has exhibited locally and nationally, taught at the Cornish School of Arts in Seattle and served as an art critic for both daily newspapers in Seattle.

Dr. Lehmann has served on the board of all of the major fine arts organizations in Seattle, including the Seattle Symphony, Municipal Art Commission, PNW Ballet Association, Seattle Repertory Theater and Cornish School. He recently was appointed to the University of Washington Board of Regents and to the PLU Collegium School of Fine Arts advisory council.

The Lehmanns first began collecting African art in 1964 when he brought back several artifacts from his tour as a physician with the mercy ship Hope in Guinea.

Mrs. Lehmann accompanied her husband on his next medical stint and they also made several art safaris to West Africa, which resulted in a collection of several hundred pieces of African tribal art. The collection prompted Mrs. Lehmann to open the Nimba Gallery in 1968 in her home. The gallery is now a commercial enterprise open by appointment only.

According to Mrs. Lehmann, most traditional and ceremonial art made of wood is considered old if it was made more than 60 years ago.

Unprotected artifacts are destroyed by termites and humidity if left in Africa over longer periods of time. Some African art made of wood preserved in European collections is as much as 200 years old, however, and if made of stone, bronze or ivory, can be thousands of years old.

April 7 is Hire a Veteran Day

On February 3, 1977, in his first "Fireside Chat", President Carter addressed the subject of Vietnam era veteran unemployment. During that chat the President stated that "The top priority in our job training programs will go to young veterans of the Vietnam war." From his statement it was obvious he was concerned that the unemployment rate for young (20-24 years) Vietnam era had risen above 18 percent.

Our community should also be concerned. Just recently, because of the high unemployment rate of veterans in Greater Tacoma/Pierce County, we were singled out as one of the 100 cities to receive Department of Labor assistance for stimulating veteran employment. Already plans have been developed to provide employment assistance to disabled veterans of our community. There is a definite indication that more national employment programs for young veterans are being developed.

As a community we cannot afford to sit back and wait for government programs to materialize. We must take the initiative. We must get involved. We must make every effort to combat veteran unemployment. We must take every practical measure to get Greater Tacoma/Pierce County off the list of 100 cities needing government assistance to solve our local veteran unemployment problems.

The City of Tacoma and Pierce County officials have taken the initiative. They are doing something about it. However, in order for their effort to be successful you as a citizen of the community must also become involved and do your part and provide job opportunities for unemployed veterans.

Mayor Johnston of Tacoma and other county government executives have proclaimed Thursday, April 7, 1977, as "Hire a Veteran Day." Mayor Johnston's Veterans Employment Task Force and the National Alliance of Businessmen have been diligently preparing a campaign designed to secure jobs or pledges for jobs, for those veterans actively registered with the State Employment Security offices in Pierce County. The foundation for the campaign will be a form of "telethon." Volunteers from Fort Lewis will man telephones on April 7, 1977 and attempt to obtain jobs or pledges for jobs from the 1,200 or more businessmen they will talk with throughout the day. This effort alone will not solve the veteran enumployment problem, but it is one step in the right direction - one way of getting involved. The success of the campaign will depend largely on how the business community can broaden its economic perspective and find a way to open the door to needy veterans.

A campaign was conducted last year on May 13, 1976 results -- 211 job pledges. A goal of 300 pledges this year in Tacoma and Pierce County will only scratch the surface of the problem. However, each time we scratch the surface we get closer to the core.

April 7, 1977, "Hire a Veteran Day", may be just what we need to show the Vietnam era veterans of our community not only that we support our men and women in uniform but we still support them after they have discarded their uniforms and rejoined us as neighbors and fellow citizens.

If you have a job, make it available to a veteran. Call the National Alliance of Businessmen at 593-6521.

Citizens Displeased With Transit Tax

In 1966 Tacoma imposed a 75¢ per month tax on its citizens. This tax was included or attached to the utility bill. Since that time several citizens have become dissatisfied with this "imposition."

One citizen has recently decided to collect signatures sufficient to get the measure on the ballot. If enough signatures are collected, and if the measure is placed on the ballot, then if voters pass this measure the citizens of Tacoma would save $1.50 per utility bill. But, the transit system may "loose several dollars in federal funds which it now receives."
